Poison from Rabbit.

Blood poisoning has resulted from a wound made by the bone of a rabbit which J. W. Heddon, State Superintendent of Printing, was eating at Frankfort several days ago and Mr. Heddon is now in a hospital in Louisville being treated. There is said to be danger that Mr. Heddon will lose his thumb. He was eating rabbit at his boarding-house in Frankfort several days ago when a piece of bone was driven under his thumb nail. The wound was very painful, but Mr. Heddon paid very little attention to it, until the thumb began to swell. Then he went to see a physician and found that the bone had caused blood poisoning. Mr. Heddon then went to Louisville, where he entered a hospital for treatment. He is doing nicely now.

The L. & N.'s New Florida Special

The L. & N.'s new Florida special made its first trip South on Tuesday. The elegant through train passes Paris at 10:30 a. m., and arrives at Jacksonville, Fla., the following morning at 9:30. The train was in charge of Conductor S. M. Bailey, with engineer John Mugerage at the throttle. The train made perfect time and arrived at its destination without a single mishap.

This modern train is made up of five cars, dining, Pullman, day, express and smoker. All the coaches are brand new and were made in the L. & N. car shops in Louisville. The diner is especially modern and the service is unequalled, electric lights, fans, in fact everything needed to make the traveling public comfortable.

This car is in charge of Mr. C. P. Halaawalt, who certainly knows his business. Mr. L. M. Hill, Superintendent of the dining car service of the L. & N. was on this trip to see that things were started right and entertained a very jolly party at a luncheon and to use the slang phrase it was a "pipin'."

The time made by this train between Cincinnati and Corbin was very fast and can be shortened at least one hour, which no doubt will be done as soon as the 32 miles of new double track between Sinks and Corbin has been put in a little better shape.

General Passenger Agent W. A. Russell, of Louisville, and Division Passenger Agent F. D. Bush, of Cincinnati, General Agent F. B. Carr, of Lexington, Superintendent W. H. Anderson and Agent W. H. Harris, of Paris, Wm. Sheridan, Inspector of Transportation, of Louisville, Mr. L. A. Summers, Special Agent, of Cincinnati, Mr. L. M. Hill, Superintendent of Dining Car Service, Mr. J. H. Settle, City Passenger Agent and Mr. C. B. Phelps, Superintendent of Transportation of Louisville, and Swift Champ, of Paris, composed a jolly party which went over the road on Tuesday.

Every section and drawing room were taken for this trip. Paris furnishing twelve passengers for Florida. Our popular agent Mr. Harris was highly complimented for having the largest party for the first through train to Jacksonville. At Corbin the train picks up a modern observation car, giving passengers the opportunity of getting a good view of the beautiful mountain scenery.

Paris is to be congratulated upon having such railroad accommodations as the L. & N. is furnishing and the people of this section should show their appreciation by riding these trains South in preference to other roads who don't give half the service. The new time table which went into effect Monday will be found in another column of this issue.

Boxing Contest.

One of the biggest and best athletic events ever pulled off in Kentucky will take place in Lexington at the Opera House on Thursday night, Dec. 31. The greatest heavyweight contest of the year will be between Marvin Hart, of Louisville, and Mike Schreck, of Cincinnati, in 20 rounds to a decision. The second event of 5 rounds being Boiling Barnes vs. Kid Stanford. The third, Mat Devin vs. Kid Webster, 8 rounds.

The above contests will be under the auspices of the Fayette Athletic Club. Messrs. Tom Crawford and Wallace Steele being the managers of this event. Special trains will be run from Louisville and Cincinnati. All the neighboring towns will send large delegations and it is expected to be the greatest event of the kind ever pulled off in Kentucky.

Lots of good seats are yet to be had but order early as they are going fast. Prices: Ring-side, $3.00; boxes, $3.00; parquette, $2.50; Dress Circle, $2.00; balcony and gallery, $1.00. Fight begins at 8:30.
